

The Agony Scene, The Darkest Red

I bleed this blasphemy
The sin that courses through my veins
It burns beneath
Beneath the scars of my decay

This suffering
These fingers claw against my flesh
I pray for this
This touch that takes away my breath

I pray for

This is my final breath
The choking end of misery
My walls collapse
I pray for death
This is my final breath
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed
The darkest red
I pray for death

We share this suffering
One open wound, a whispered cry
It breathes in me, draining the life from the inside
In ecstasy exposing my flesh to darkest red
I can't resist this touch that takes away my breath

I pray for

This is my final breath, the choking end of misery
My walls collapse, I pray for death
This is my final breath
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed
The darkest red
I pray for death

Feel me, breathe me, bleed me, I beg you

This is my final breath, the choking end of misery
My walls collapse, I pray for death
This is my final breath
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed
The darkest red
I pray for death
