

The Apers, Only The Grim Reaper

It was a saturday in some dumb caf you were with a friend playing Photoplay I was at the bar drinking Heineken when I fell in love with you And like it was planned we shared a mutual friend so we sat down somewhere I finally got to stare at you the whole night long and so I wrote this song because I fell in love with you Now I keep falling deeper yeah deeper in love
only the grim reaper
can make the falling stop
And as the days went by I still wondered why I didn't even talk to you for awhile now what is wrong with me, do I need therapy?
I just fell in love with you I'll go out every night because I hope I might run into you somewhere this time I won't just stare no, I promised myself that I'm gonna tell you that I'm so in love with you Now I keep falling deeper
yeah deeper in love
can make the falling stop
But now I'm doing great I dream about you every night thank heaven where they've made you on my knees you can see it in my eyes, and I, I won't apologise my heart belongs to you, it's plain to see
