

The Ark, Prayer For The Weekend

Come, baby. It's time to pray

Come it's time to pray for the weekend, babe Come it's time to jump in at the deep end, babe
It opens up its jaws it's panting like a hound We'll pick the fleurs du mal and we'll bind it a crown

Come, let's pray for the weekend, babe
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, make your claim for a better day
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, let's pray for the weekend, babe
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, make your claim for the holyday

It hovers like an eagle It's growling like a beast Demanding our sacrifice but offering a feast It's calling out for blood we must quench its thirst
The night is calling all its dusky children back to work But first...

Come, let's pray for the weekend babe
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, make your claim for a better day
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, let's pray for the weekend, babe
nanana nana nana nanana
Come, make your claim for the holyday

Let's pray that the weekend will thrill us, babe Let's pray that the weekend wont kill us, babe Hooray!
