

The Ark, Resurrection

High on you I feel love again
There's no pretending here
It's long ago since I've had a reason
So strong
I used to be a bird of prey
Crying to be heard
A heavy heart
Carrying the weight of sorrow
Talking about it
You were there saving me from darkness
Life has never been - ever seemed so bright
I used to be a bird of prey
Crying to be heard
A heavy heart
Carrying the weight of sorrow
Solitude and broken hearts
Living all around us
Centuries of asking "why the wind blows here"
You woke me from my sleep
I feel alive baby
And we're gonna dance tonight.
It's alright
I used to be a bird of prey
Crying to be heard
A heavy heart
Carrying the weight of sorrow
And the pipe
