

The Associates, Take Me To The Girl

she drove me far too far and then i drove her car the streets were long and wide i felt i had no place to hide my courage in a glass
'ich liebe', was ist das? ('i love you', what is that?) are you my only friend? temptation drives me round the bend so, take me to the girl that i once knew does she know what i've been going through?

i've been searching for her everywhere i think my darling thought i didn't care geneva is the city of our love all these voices calling from above now no one can ever take her place no one in the whole wide human race society's to blame this picture in a frame picasso told me so i guess he ought to really know my flesh was always weak my tango less than chic such grandeur took its toll and left me here, a wretched soul

does she know what i've been going through?
no one in the whole wide human race
