

The Audition, Ether

Can someone please just shake the lies out of me?
It seems that every word I say don't mean a thing
I've tried so hard reel you closer to freedom
With every cast I just exhaust all my options
Tonight, tonight we are going to make all the headlines
It's so damn hard to push my pride to the side
Take back everything I said
No that I'm never coming home again
I know that's it's for the best
Come back when I know I've been
Washed clean, all but emptiness
With these words I'm leaving less
I feel I'm constantly restricted by shackles
This so-called ball and chain is all I've ever known
I've climbed some mountains I thought I'd never tackle
They gave me sense of hope, and most of all, a sense of home
Tonight, tonight we are gonna make all the headlines
I've tried for nights to write a new beginning, I've failed every time
Take back everything I said
No that I'm never coming home again
I know that's it's for the best
Come back when I know I've been
Washed clean, all but emptiness
With these words I'm leaving less
Oh girl, you know
Everywhere I want to go
I won't stop, I can't stop
'Til I get just the one I want [x2]
Tonight, tonight we are gonna make all the headlines
Oh it's so damn hard...
Take back everything I said
No that I'm never coming home again
I know that's it's for the best
Come back when I know I've been
Washed clean, all but emptiness
With these words I'm leaving less
