

The Banner, Marked For Life

i stand alone
i chose this path for me and though your gone
i'm marked for life
one more time
another falls
we're going round and round again carve it on my stone on the day i die.
as strong now
are my feelings
what it means and it still matters.
live my life for no one but me and this path has strengthened me i stand tall
it burns - i raise my fist declaration - my heart
its drives me-on my stone.
true till death.
i look around, i dont like what i see.
whats this about - i'm marked for life they've let me down, those that we once looked to it's so clear now - i'm marked for life i look around, how did it get so bad wont let them down - i'm marked for life we'll tear it down, there's nothing left for me get off the ground - i'm marked for life and here i stand - i'm my strongest ever and though they may fall, i'm still marked for life.
