

The Beach Boys, Everyone's In Love With You

Oooooo-ooooo-ooooo

Ooo-ooo-ooo

Everyone's in love with you

But you can't fall in love with anyone

Still everyone's in love with you

Though you can't fall in love with only one

So many people have had a love affair

Have had a love to share like mine

But I tell you people

I found something new

A love of a different kind

Everyone's in love with you

Though most just barely glimpse a part of you

They all can see your love shine through

It comes from deep within the heart of you

So many people have had their love affairs

Had their loves to share like mine

Now I tell you people

I witnessed something new

A love that could only be divine

Everyone's in love with you

And though you can't belong to only one

Still everyone's in love with you

Because (because) you gave your love

(Because) Because you gave your love (you gave your love)

Because you gave your love to everyone
