

The Beautiful South, Girlfriend

(Antonio Reid/Kenny Edmunds)

Girl make a list

Go out and find yourself a new plaything

Oh girl you need a trip

'Cause he's not worth the misery and pain

So just remember how he would tell you lies

And then pretend that everything was so sweet

No need to sacrifice

If you're not satisfied

He's just a canine running round on heat

Girl, you must resist

Don't let him squirm his way into your heart

Oh girl you must insist

You've got to stop the fool before he starts

So just remember how he was so untrue

And all the tacky things he did to you

No need to sympathise

'Cause he's not worth the time

You've got to find someone who's true to you

Girlfriend, how could you let him treat you so bad

Girlfriend, you know you're the best he's ever had
