The Ben Taylor Band, Safe Enough To Wake Up

Written by: Ben Taylor

If you'd like to come out on the ocean with me,
I know some places that you'd have to go to believe,
And if you're feeling afraid then we can wait till you're dreaming
And getcha one 'nem yellow submarines
Everyone's floating on that old school magical potion
Just blowing off steam
Aqua marines and mermaid limousines

And the sea sends waves to sing your praise
And the nighttime's on fire from the lights above the world
across the way

And it would be a shame if you were not to wake up,
If you forgot to wake up
Please don't be afraid,
It's safe enough to wake up

Now you can forget everything that you said
And every lesson that you ever learned to regret
Stop trying to guess what's coming up next
And look up at the sunset.
Even if you feel as though you haven't got a second to spare,
I don't care.
You don't have to wonder what to wear

And the sea sends waves to sing your praise
across the way

And it would be a shame if you were not to wake up,
If you forgot to wake up
Please don't be afraid,
It's safe enough to wake up

Even if you feel as though you haven't got a second to spare,
I don't care.

And it would be a shame if you were not to wake up,
If you forgot to wake up
Please don't be afraid,
It's safe enough to wake up
