

The Better World, Down And Under

Down and Under (Matt Coban)

Could it be that my words desecrate your mind
The truth is out there if you only had the chance to find it
I remember when the days we lived were young
I'm chasing dreams that were already gone
There's nothing left to feel, and there's no time to kill
I could make it seem like nothing ever went this wrong
But nothing in this world will ever make you feel so lost
I remember when the days we lived were young
I'm chasing dreams that were already gone
There's nothing left to feel, and there's no time to kill

And nothing here feels right

Even though we tried
But something must be right
Cause we always tried
I'm down and under your breath
Even though we tried

I remember when the days we lived were young
I'm chasing dreams that were already gone
There's nothing left to feel, and there's no time to kill
I'm down and under your breath
Even though we tried

I'm down and under your breath