The Better World, Fell Apart

Fell Apart
(Matt Coban)

Here we are
Everything seems so far gone
To the stars
I've always reached them now I'm falling
And you don't know what you're missing
I can show you what you're missing
I don't care what you said to me
I don't care, it don't mean shit to me
Everything I thought
You knew it all
Every time I let you down
You fell apart, you fell apart

Are you waking up?

Reality daytrips in your head
Forget me now
Cause no one's dreams will take you there
And you should know what you're missing
I will show you what you're missing
I don't care what you said to me
I don't care, it don't mean shit to me
Everything I thought
You knew it all
Every time I let you down
You fell apart, you fell apart

And I don't know how long it's been
I'm just counting down the days
The sky is falling down on us
And you fell, you fell apart
