The Birthday Massacre, Promise Me

We don't know what time we'll be there But we won't show up till later It will all look so much nicer After all of us arrive

Promise me to pass the time Dance with me on plastic tears Kiss me We won't feel alone Till morning when we disappear

Though we all want to be noticed There's no need for competition Cause there's just no way of knowing Where the camera points tonight

Promise me to pass the time Dance with me on plastic tears Kiss me We won't feel alone Till morning when we disappear

We don't listen to each other
Cause we're all too busy talking
We'll tell lies about each other
Cause the truth is such a bore
With the threat of dawn approaching
And our interest quickly fading
We will stumble home together
As we did the night before

Promise me to pass the time Dance with me on plastic tears Kiss me. We won't feel alone Till morning when we disappear
