

The Bouncing Souls, Break-Up Song

"I don't want this anymore" is all I heard her say as I grabbed my stuff and headed out the door.

With my music in my phones and my bike under my feet things started to look different as I got out on the street.

Sometimes I see her face in the new people that I meet We're not who we thought we were when we saw this dream

Sometimes when I just can't sleep
I hear the words you said to me:
How did you get so deep inside of me

I wake up and I move on I admit the past is gone
I wake up and I refine Moving forward to the next lifetime,
I leave it all behind.

Sometimes when I just can't sleep
I hear the words you said to me:
Sometimes it takes a painful loss to realize you are free
How did you get so deep inside of me

How did you get so deep inside of me?
