

The Bouncing Souls, Night Train

Good bye to me and you.
Good bye to the life we knew.
One last long embrace. Let go and walk on through.
I'm leaving everything thing behind
for a piece that i can't find.
Ghosts that roam this house. Winter air rock through our soul.
And it feels like dying.
It just feels like time to go.

Going down south to dream another dream.
Maybe checkout memphis tennessee.
take the night train and an extra pair of jeans.
Can't think of anything else i really need.
All my experiences ride with me.

This town, it is dead to me
and I can't stop chasing my dreams.
I love you more than anything
but what you I can never be.

I love you more than anything.
But I'll be alone. Can't we both be free?

Good bye to me and you.
Good bye to the life we knew.
Wipe the tears from your eyes
and walk on through.