The Chemical Brothers, The Pills Won't Help You

Thought we were going
And go up the field a ways
And join all the other living souls
But you never came

Robbed of your fortune You get disappointments in life You're probably poisoning your body I hope you're alright

In a moment of fear You dig in your heels The pills won't help you now Once you're crying

Thought you were going Go up the field a ways Join all the other living souls But you never came

Robbed of your fortune You get disappointments in life You're probably poisoning your body I hope you're alright

In a moment of fear You dig in your heels The pills won't help you now Once you cry

Robbed of your fortune You get disappointments in life You're probably poisoning your body I hope you're alright

In a moment of fear You dig in your heels The pills won't help you now Once you cry
