

The Clash, The Beautiful People Are Ugly Too

I see the law caught your hands on the stuff
And if that wasn't enough
Means I totally fell for your bluff
Oh how you kicked off that stuff
Oh the beautiful people are ugly too!
There's gonna be a lot of washin' when the dance is through
Now you're face, without pretence
Is lit up on the fence
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
All those who feign indifference
Whether to be, or become past tense
The forgotten part of old acquaintance
Who stiffed out on the Itchykoo park bench
Admit it!
You thought you were the hero
Of the Fulham Connection 2
Yeah the flashing strip
You flashed your jewels
But now the credits
It must roll through
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
A fatal mistake - they lived a year in a week
And ready to be great if you gotta receipt
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
You, you, you, you!
You can buy another singer like you gotta lotta money!
Can't get a lotta swing along a letter to jail
The beautiful people are ugly too!
There's gonna be a lot of washin' when the dance is through
Now the beautiful people are ugly too!"