

The Connells, Fine Tuning

You better open your eyes wide, it's all here.
You been too long on the inside.
Time to try some fine tuning, focus in if you can.
You better open your eyes now.

Better seen as they say, there's just no way.
I'm falling for all of that.
Just leave your things at the door, and nothing more.
But take what you can.

The sun better open your eyes wide, 'cause it's all clear.
You been too long on the inside.
Time to try some fine tuning, focus in if you can.
You better open your eyes now.

Better seen as they say, there's just no way.
I'm falling for all of that.
Just leave your things at the door, and nothing more.
But take what you can.

There's one small problem I see, I disagree.
Falling for all of that.
Just leave your brain at the door, and nothing more.
But take what you can.

Better seen as they say, there's just no way.
I'm falling for all of that.
There's just one problem I see, I disagree.
Better before your fine (?)
