

The Connells, Gonna Take A Lie

fever in a blister out, you know it will simmer until its cold even in a fleeting range the suffering fills us full are you going to win me around again play that sound like you always do

its going to take a lie nothing else will do
as if it really matters
this time
I want to see your face when its all through why not think of this as pure intention why not think of this as pulling through will you ever win me round again

play that sound like you always do

this time
I want to see your face when its all through

Your never going to bring me round again

this time
I don't want to see your face when its all through

this time
I want to see your face
