

The Cooper Temple Clause, I'll Still Write

I feel fine
I think I'm on the mend
Things are looking up these days
Since you came
So please don't cry
You know it's not your style
You just do this kind of thing
Do you now

I won't let this fail
So please don't bail
There's pitfalls in bed
But either way
I meant what I said

Can't stop now
But trying to cut down
We'll sit and drink till we don't make
Any sense
Cos that's what I do
You know I don't mean it
It's just the way I am
Weak and easy

I won't let this fail
So please don't bail
There's pitfalls in bed
But either way
I meant what I said
But I'll still write though
Even if you do go...
