

The Coral, Keep Me Company

Over the hill and far away
Down the valley and past the lake
Through the trees, beneath the shade
In this place, that's where i'll wait
For you
To keep me company
Like an old memory

An hour or two has just flown by
Took the sun out of the sky
A stained glass shadow, it will have been cast
A ghostly gaze forgets my past

But you
Could keep me company
Like an old memory

Oh no, here it comes again
Oh no, here it comes again
Can't stop the pain

I've come so far, I can't get home
Is no one there, am I alone?
Here and now I must confess
This is potential loneliness
