

The Cranberries, Many Days

You bring out the best in me
You opened up the door
Bringing out the best in me
I'm not afraid anymore
You bring out the smile in me
You opened up my eyes
Bringing out the smile in me
Your burying my disguise

Many nights many days
I would sit in a gaze worrying
Many nights , many days
I wasn't alive
(repeat)

Take, take, take, take me over

You bring out the best in me
You opened up the door
Bringing out the best in me
I'm not afraid anymore
You bring out the truth
Bringing out the smile
You bring out the truth

Many nights , many days
I would sit in a gaze worrying
Many nights , many days
I wasn't alive

You gotta open up your heart
You gotta open up your mind
