

The Crowns, Let It Go

Don't know what you want
Ever since you said you can't
Trying to find a way to believe
I know that it is wrong
But I can't get along
When all you wanna do is leave
And I know that I will remember
And I hope that you understand
When I say that I can't come over
Though my mind will always be there
Now all of this has gone
And we have moved along
We see a different side to everything
And though we tried to go on
This battle can't be won
Tell me now what I've gotta say
