The Cure, A Chain Of Flowers

Please wake up It's so dark and cold Please wake up I feel so alone And I feel so scared That you're going away And I feel so scared...

All I want is summer Stories from before Just like the day you tried to hide Behind the churchyard wall And fell asleep before I came...

I found you In a chain of flowers Sleeping like a marble girl Sleeping in another world...

I'll never tell you Of all the different ways You make me so afraid...
