

The Doors, Tree Trunk

You and me caught in the heart of a rainstorm
Gettin' all wet, but I got me a brainstorm
Why don't we hide in the trunk of this tree for a while?
And we're gettin' so close
It's so warm that you're makin' me smile
Well, you're makin' me wish we could stay here
For more than a while.
Well, the rain has been over for two or three hours
We're gonna stay with the trees and the flowers
Why don't we stay here 'til nineteen seventy-four?
And I look at the sky
And I wish it would rain some more
And you're makin' me feel just like I've Never felt before
This memory I can't erase
The raindrops on your face look so inviting
I know this love I can't resist
The way you pout your lips is so exciting
Inviting.
You and me caught in the heart of a rainstorm
Gettin' all wet, but I got me a brainstorm
Why don't we hide in the trunk of this tree for a while?
And we're gettin' so close
It's so warm you're makin' me smile
Well, you're makin' me wish we could stay here
For more than a while
Yes you're makin' me wish we could stay here
For more than a while.
