

The Early November, Everything's too cold

Your smile is like the sun to me So bright its weakening But so sweet But of all that you would like t