

The Echoing Green, Brand New Day

Walking on a warm, warm summer's day
The sky is blue, but your heart is gray
Everywhere you turn, see the bridges burn
It's time for you to find a better way
You never thought of the seed before you'd sow
When it's time to reap, you'd run and go
You'd run and go, you'd run and go...

All around you see the pieces fall
And you want to end it all
When you see His light you can find your way
And you'll live in a brand new day

All around you see the pieces fall
And you want to end it all
When you see His light you can find your way
And you'll live in a brand new day

Turning back the pages of your life
You see your pain in black and white
Are you the one who chose how the story goes?
It's time for you to make it right
You need to take your heart to a better place
To seek His face, and find His grace
You find His grace, you find His grace...

All around you see the pieces fall
And you want to end it all
When you see His light you can find your way
And you'll live in a brand new day
