The Echoing Green, Candy Cane Carriage/Believ

Pink a snow sleigh ride You are good, you were kind and the magic book defines To be young and in love is a gift laced in gold All the years have made me scared Just give me something to share

Oh what can I do when you break my heart in two Oh what can I feel when you break my heart in pieces(2x)

"Better bees than bears" is what you used to say as the pollen filled the air and the June bugs would sing We made sun-coloured rings And I'd kiss you in the trees And you said you'd never leave

Oh what can I do when you break my heart in two Oh what can I feel when you break my heart in pieces(2x)

There was a time when all I did was cry The fear had gripped my life And all my dreams passed by

But this time I feel you close to me And looking I can see The Christmas in your eyes

And here comes the sun Shining down on everyone And I know today is gonna be okay

And here comes the sun Shining down on everyone And I know tonight it's gonna be all right

And I can see
The thunder move so far from me today
Nothing's in my way
And I can feel
Your love this time I know it's real
And I realize the Christmas in your eyes

And here comes the sun And I'll believe for everyone That love has come and sorrow has an end

And here comes The One Who gave me strength when I had none My broken heart is beating once again...
