The Echoing Green, Tonight

Underneath the open sky Beneath the stars we cry And I can't see your eyes

How I wonder where you are Sometimes you seem so far Especially tonight Tonight Tonight

Though I know you have to run How I want you to stay on And see how far we've come

No, we cannot always wait To choose the perfect day To mean the things we say We say We say

I can't let you go Somehow I think you know But if you have to leave Now's the time, when I'm still strong My sight still clear

Tonight (tonight) Tonight (tonight) Tonight (tonight)

Tonight Tonight Tonight Tonight
