The Fray, Rainy Zurich

In midair and floating off to space, I?m moving in, Your hair is falling all around my face, Like a parachute, I?m breathing in, You?re breathing out the same, We give and take, And let the water fall on the flame, It?s not burning out

I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, And I will hold your body slowly turning, I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, Breathe it in, We?II take it off and soak our skin

She?s in a town that holds a lonely road, And the night is falling, There?s a road that follows to a home, And the sky is heavy, In the home she?s in a lonely room, With music playing, Can she hear my heart coming through, On the door between

I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, And I will hold your body slowly turning, I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, Breathe it in, We?II take it off and soak

Maybe I?II find you, Maybe I won?t, Baby I?II try to, Even if I don?t, You are what I never knew I needed, What I never knew I needed, What I never knew I needed, Almost there

I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, And I will hold your body slowly turning, I?II keep you warm, Dancing in a downpour, Breathe it in, We?II take it off and soak
