

The Go Set, The Rising Tide

Buildings getting taller
And the days are getting warmer
People come from miles around
The holiday sun in a seaside town
The water's warm and rising, the water is warm and rising
There's a place where we are falling into the sea
There's a place where we are falling into the sea
Seafront construction
A wall holding the rising tide
Motor car destruction
And a sea of melting ice
The water's warm and rising, the water is warm and rising
There's a place where we are falling into the sea
There's a place where we are falling into the sea
