The Hold Steady, Chillout Tent

There was a stage and a PA Up in western Massachussetts The kids came from miles around To get messed up on the music

She drove down from bowdoin With a carload of girlfriends To meet some boys and Maybe eat some mushrooms

And they did and she got sick Now she's pinned and way too shaky She don't want to tell the doctor Everything she's taken

The paramedics hovered over Like a somber mourning family They gave her activated charcoal They flooded her with saline

She got really hot and then she came to in the chillout tent. They gave her oranges and cigarettes

He was rough around the edges. He'd been to school but never finished He'd been to jail but never prison

It was his first day off in forever, man The festival seemed like a pretty good plan Cruise some chicks and get a suntan

His friend gave him four but he said only take one But then he got bored He ended up taking all four So now my man he ain't that bored anyways The paramedics found him He was shaking on the side of the stage

Everything was spinning and then he came to in the chillout tent They gave him oranges and cigarettes She got really hot and then she came to in the chillout tent They gave them oranges and cigarettes

She looked just like a baby bird All new and wet and trying to light a Parliament He quoted her some poetry He's Tennyson in denim and sheepskin He looked a lot like Izzy Stradlin They started kissing when the nurses took off their IVs It was kind of of sexy but it was kind of creepy Their mouths were fizzy with the cherry cola They had the privacy of bedsheets All the other kids were mostly in comas

He was kind of cute They kind of kicked it in the chillout tent She never saw that boy again

She was pretty cool They kind of kicked it in the chillout tent He never saw that girl again
