

The Horrors, Something To Remember Me By

Memory revolving the fear or letting go the arrow of acceptance the moment when you know and when the answers only divide when you never question the doubts in your mind when the distance grows but the ends is in sight

now all that's left behind
something to remember me by
or the fear
the slow divide
all the silent song
two side, a double life

I've gone too far this time but chances come and go you say that I believe my lies but now you'll never know you know you won't

when you never question the doubts in your mind

or the fear
