

The Jesus Lizard, Uncommonly Good

I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way
Those friends of mine were always glad to help me through,
Can you tell me where it hurts the most
Right here

Their house was grimy and filthy and dirty, but their hearts were flowing pure and clean
Or so I thought, I'd always believe them, at least that's how it seemed to be
I guess I thought that way mistakenly, oh

They did things to that goat, they did things no one should do
Well I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way
Those friends of mine were always glad to help me through,
Can you tell me where it hurts the most
