The Kelly Family, First Time

Today for the first time For the first time You took my hand Today for the first time Touched a warm heart What a lucky girl Cause you opened your heart And you gave it to me So dont tell me that you dont love me You opened your heart And you gave it to me So dont tell me that you dont need me For me for me Youre the one youre the world Someone is anyone there My body needs warmth Its a mad mad world Today for the first time I heard my heart stop As he flew away Open your heart And give it to me And dont tell me that you dont love me Open your heart And give it to me And dont tell me that you dont need me Sometimes I just fall and break Sometimes it just overflows I cant take no more I cant take no more no more Open your heart Tonight for the first time All the stars shine But youre the brightest one My love
