

The Kelly Family, Watch The Steps

Watch The Steps

I know it's not easy to comprehend
All the thoughts that dwell in your head
Walking so clearly when the games to got hold
It's swiching as you it's contradiction
If you got to stand, wish and baby be hold
Once on step's side it'd better be ignored
You're so convinced you that's what makes it so hard
For me now to say this to you
Watch the steps you make when you left my life
Don't come back again and do then twice
Watch the steps you make when you leave once life
Don't come back in for and break ours twice
All I need is consistence, but a bad and sweet intent
Deep is stronger when there I'm sold
You want to braise in that day didn't you know
That what can achieve all the way, oh yeah yeah
Watch the steps you make...
Something is telling me
That there is more to love than this
And I'm telling you, honey
Ain't nobody gonna walk on me
And stick in the time, yeah, yeah
Something is telling me
That there's more to love than this
And I'm telling you, honey
Ain't nobody gonna walk on me
So baby don't you understand me, yeah, yeah
Watch the steps you make...
Watch the steps you make
Watch the steps you take
It could break a heart apart (3x)
