The Kills, Impossible Tracks

I was carried away I was carried away I was moving too fast on impossible tracks I was carried away

I was easily led Because I'm easily led By the moon, by the tide, by whatever you like I'm just so easily led

Oh my shaking heart, You got me from the start You got me good Aim and take a shot You got me til I drop Like I knew you would

Oh you get what you give I don't regret what I did Well if a real live liar can set you on fire Then don't you settle for it?

Oh don't you take me all this way
To bring me back to earth one day
I'm gonna roll on back on impossible tracks
And get carried away

Oh my shaking heart, You got me from the start You got me good You aimed and then you shot You got me on the spot Like I knew you would

Oh my shaking heart, You got me from the start You got me good You aimed and then you shot Now I'm coming apart Like I knew I would

There's a full moon over Sunset Got our feet in perfect stride And we walk in perfect meter While we hold our smiles inside And we hold our smiles inside Like we're holding back the tide And we stride in perfect meter Like the sun won't ever rise
