

The Last Ride, Out Loud

I can't stop you from being far away
Can we be the same, we used to every day
Do I have the right to have you in my mind
Now I realized I'm running out of time

Watching every step and I'm
Waiting for your sign, then I
Knowing this before I would never let you go

I can feel it right now
No more feelings to hide
Now I know, I have never said this
Never said out loud
I can feel it right now
Better spoken than done
Never said out loud

I can only say that what I did was wrong
These unspoken words haunting me on and on
Maybe my last call melted your heart of stone
Desolation brings the fear of being alone

Watching every step and I'm
Waiting for your sign, then I
Knowing this before I wouldn't have let you go

I can feel it right now
No more feelings to hide
Now I know, I have never said this
Never said out loud
I can feel it right now
Better spoken than done
Never said out loud

I could take the blame
To make the pain go away
I would say that I care
Yes I care
