

The Legendary Pink Dots, Cubic Caesar

My learning curve was so acute it formed a perfect circle.
My whole wide world was virtual so I sank back in my shell.
It's 16 cubic feet and i shall keep you all outside.
I have this screen before me and I click.
I watch paint dry.
It's such a waste.
I watch paint dry.
I fall from grace.
Oh me oh my.
I rest my case.
I watch paint dry.
Perhaps it's been a decade since I touched another person.
I was always so uncertain so I chose to stay alone.
And all the kids i never had they're standing right before me.
I hope that they'll forgive me as i turn to face the wall.
It's such a waste. I watch paint dry.
I fall from grace.
Oh me oh my.
I watch paint dry.
I know that far away exists mysterious adventures.
A life beyond uncensored where there's nothing guaranteed.
It's not for me.
Oh I'll live with it.
Don't have the time.
My schedule's full from noon til night.
It isn't great but I'll get by.
