

The Methadones, Are You Really For Real?

You'll do anything to have all the eyes on you
It's one stupid thing after another that goes on and on and on and I can't believe the things you say
I roll my eyes and walk away
Bending over backwards to get your attention
The more we ignore you just makes you want to act up even more
I can't believe anything you say
I roll my eyes and walk away
But you still keep doing anything you feel
Tell me are you really for real?
You made yourself a punch line from a joke I didn't want to hear
You want us to listen to what you're saying so you keep coming near
I don't know why it matters if we notice you
You are one screwed up individual with a lot of stupid shit to prove