

The Morning Benders, All Day Day Light

What can only be here
To get to
I grew up in a town much different than this one
With a language upside down

So we can't talk about it
You try your best to stay awake
I've been empty in so long
I don't know which hope i should take

Then you put me on this vacation
So it's really not the town
It's winter halfway across the world
Somewhere its bright daylight

And somewhere someone sails the ocean
Somewhere someone's telling the seas
Somewhere someone's calling out my name
Somewhere they can't see me
They can't see me

I lived in the background
I sleep behind the scenes
I had someone take all my calls
And watched them outplay me

And I can't believe what you're hearing
I can't believe what you said
I can't believe I can't find this damn address
Before I drop dead

And somewhere someone sails the ocean
And somewhere someone's running the streets
Somewhere someone's calling out my name
Somewhere they're looking for me
