

The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus, Eyes Watering

My love's like an arm chair it's inclined to recline and sweep you off of your feet.
My structure is perfect there's no flaw in design a decent buy for you there's no rest for a luxury there's no rest for me.

Her eyes are watering I said we're better off this way things change, its happening everyday He'll come and take my place and show you things that I just couldn't face, we'll sit and sing a song of what we did wrong.

Now that I'm used up and my arms start to fade you can pay to upgrade.
Or you can replace me finalize my demise,
a new surprise for you,
there's no rest for a luxury,

Don't tell me the worst is over now, don't tell me what I can see with my eyes don't tell me the worst is over now, Bend my will again, then mend it straight.

and maybe ill regret you
its all in my mind
all in my mind
