

The Rolling Stones, Break the spell

In the winter when the cold comes And the wind blows with a scornful spite And the hard ground fe