

The Send, Fire Colors

Like the leaf that sleeps through summer
We all trade the sun for dreams
Soon we'll fade from green to fire colors
As we spill to grasses green...

I have realized, I'll only be here for awhile
Life comes and goes, before you know
I have realized that life is a blessing, and a trial
You could come, then go before you know
Why you're living this life

Do we have a hope?
We all wonder why we wake each morning,
As we breathe our nicotines
Are we only to suffer aging?
Are we here to fall like leaves?
