

The Starting Line, The B-List

Take another hundred names
And put 'em on a list
And curse yourself for ever watching it
I'm not gonna have to see it to the end
'Cause the fastest rat is always gonna win

You've gotta know the hustle
To make it in this town
'Cause competition's stiff as ever now

Take another hundred
And put it in her hand
Present the prize and not the ambulance

You've got a certain spark
You've got to show it off
What are you waiting for?
They've been expecting you

Have got the brightest spark
Don't let them blow it out
What are you waiting for?
They've been expecting your call

She walks on red carpets all the time
In my eyes
Others will scoff at her clothes coming off
They will talk, let 'em talk
Because you've given them just what they want

Harder than a drama
Softer than a porn
Oh come on, fill that purse a little more

You got something special (You got something special)
Put it on the air (Put it on the air)
Humiliation pays well by the tear

You've got a certain spark
You've got to show it off
What are you waiting for?
They've been expecting you

What have you been waiting for?
They've been expecting your call

She walks on red carpets all the time
In my eyes
Others will scoff at her clothes coming off
They will talk, let 'em talk
Because you've given them just what they want

Given them just what they want
Yeah, you've given them just what they want

He'll do most anything
You'll do most anything
For the camera
A mil for a wedding ring
A thou for embarrassing yourself
Keep that camera rolling, baby

What are you waiting for?
'Cause we've been waiting for you

What are you waiting for?
Wait for it

She walks on red carpets all the time
In my eyes
In my eyes
Others will scoff at her clothes coming off
They will talk, let them talk
Because you've given them just what they want

She walks on red carpets all the time
In my eyes (Why can't you see what you've become?)
In my eyes
Others will scoff at her clothes coming off
They will talk, let them talk
Because you've given them just what they want
