

The Story So Far, Playing The Victim

Crushing you inside of my grip again
You're breathing in Pushing this aside till when?
Ignoring that pain
Felt you creep inside of my head again
It all depends on where I am and who I'm there with

It's rough when we're both square one
With so much undone,
Who lost, who won?
All rain, no sun

Don't want to have to speak to anyone

Said this will kill if you let it somehow I forget
I should be asleep I shouldn't be upset
Playing the victim while you're still here
Blaming the future on things I fear
I keep blaming the future on things I fear

Waking up to gloom and routine again
You're breathing in
That air that dries your lungs
But you kept our trust
And said do what you must to be happy
And I left with a debt that called me out
Quick to be honest with it all
So now I just sing (I just sing)
About missing this and missing that but what will it really bring?

If we're both square one
With so much undone,
Who lost, who won?
All rain

Said this will kill if you let it somehow I forget
I should be asleep I shouldn't be upset
Playing the victim while you're still here
Blaming the future on things I fear
I keep blaming the future on things I fear

Just a special circumstance
Where in lies the worst part I can't accept
Coming up on Fall are there things we haven't spoke on yet?
Said you won't regret
But you and I are one in the same
Don't want to have to feel numb
I don't want this undone
Don't want to have to speak to anyone

Said this will kill if you let it somehow I forget
I should be asleep I shouldn't be upset
Kill if you let it somehow I forget
I should be asleep I shouldn't be upset
Playing the victim while you're still here
I keep blaming the future on things I fear
