

The Stranglers, Enough Time

What's gonna happen when the sky goes black?

What will you do when the sea comes back?

What if there's no way of moving back?

What when your face falls apart?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

You're drifting out like a child who's lost

Who's looking for a better way

You're moving like a coin in the air

What when your face falls apart?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

You're maybe looking for a sign of life

You hope it's gonna save your life

What will you do to restore your sight?

What when your face falls apart?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?

Have you got enough time?
