

The Subways, Ghost In My Heart

wasting all my time counting the shadows inside of my life

now Im crying inside feeling bad I loose my mind thinking of you

walking on thin lines my heart is empty, but I can carry on walking through the stormy nights I dont care - I see the light memories come back

the night lights up - ghost in my heart I watch them burn - stare through the dark wrestling emotions, Im drawn to the flame caught in the shadow

all of my life
I stand alone

youre ghost in my heart

as time goes by I cant realize the future you made everything so right

I miss your smile your touch everything hurts so much I care for you

the night lights up - ghost in my heart

youre ghost in my heart
