

The Sweet, Everything

Life, life without your love is like a world without the sky above like a rose needs the sun and the rain I need your love time and time again
You are everything, everything I ever wanted you are everything, but in a world without your love it means nothing, yeah Gold, held it in my hand without you I'm a poor rich man shine your light angel from above spread your wings fill my world with love You are everything, everything I ever wanted
you are everything, but in a world without your love it means nothing
You are everything, everything I need you are everything, but in a world without your love
it means nothing, yeah