

The Sweet, Funny Funny

Ah ah ah

Tell me is it really true
This feeling that I feel for you
Your own kind of loving
That makes me think nothing
Could ever take the place of you

And it's so funny funny what you do honey honey
What you do, what you mean to me
And you know honey honey 'though it's so funny funny
That you mean all the world to me

Ah ah ah

Ever since you came my way
I knew it was my lucky day
The sun started shining
When you started smiling
And I know it's gonna stay that way

And it's so funny funny what you do honey honey
What you do, what you mean to me
And you know honey honey 'though it's so funny funny
That you mean all the world to me

Can't imagine loving anyone but you
(Honey honey, so funny funny)
Every minute, loving everything you do
(Honey honey, so funny funny)
Couldn't see my way without you
Now I've gotta tell the world about you

Tell me is it really true
This feeling that I feel for you
Your own kind of loving
That makes me think nothing
Could ever take the place of you

And it's so funny funny what you do honey honey
What you do, what you mean to me
And you know honey honey 'though it's so funny funny
That you mean all the world to me

And it's so funny funny what you do honey honey
What you do, what you mean to me
And you know honey honey 'though it's so funny funny
That you mean all the world to me
